As the dust begins to settle on the first wave of tyranny surrounding CoViD-1984, people are beginning to wonder if all these changes were necessary. The world is beginning to begrudgingly accept the propagandized “new normal” with lockdown zealots essentially forming shame mobs against people not engaging in proper mask etiquette. What has become of this country, this once land of the free and home of the brave? Only, this issue isn’t only in America...

While things may seem dire and almost dystopian, we are seeing moves in some of the most unlikely spaces. The fact that our technocratic overlords see it so fit to manipulate search results and curate content, alludes to the very real reality that there are other solutions besides what’s being promised. Doctors, scientists, epidemiologists and more are coming out in droves, not only protesting the lockdowns, but also Bill Gates’ vaccine and anything else he may be attached to.

However, as this exposition of global magnitude takes place, there are bound to be unforeseen consequences such as major players being removed from popular platforms, salon owners being arrested, fined and jailed, prominent scientists disappeared, journalists silenced all in the attempt to bring you the truth. This over reaching, technocratic threat is what we’re up against, and it will take all of us to succeed; A system this corrupt requires compliance while met with only resistance.

The dust of this deadly disease has begun to settle, and with the foggy horizon distorted, many people are beginning to clamor for answers. As the world begins to begrudgingly accept the propagandized “new normal”, zealots are being whipped into near hysterical frenzy over mask etiquette combined with these abhorrent new social measures we are told to endure. While this shadowy moment in human history may seem bleak, there are still flickers of hope.

At almost lightspeed, in lockstep with Operation Warp Speed, we are seeing the censoring efforts of the technocratic elite block the very mention of Vitamin C and opposing the lockdowns, as if the idea of any potential cure other than Gates’ vaccine is “fake science”. This type of authoritarian control over someone’s medical choices, both biologically speaking as well as informationally speaking, is dangerous and ultimately detrimental to health.

At what point did we allow for such abdication of our own medical freedom? Regardless of if many of these questions will receive answers, we have to provide them for a time not our own and with events as sophisticated as this, I think many people are beginning to question their own moves while doubling down in their motives. We are seeing enemies almost unilaterally, and now that things are being put in place, the only thing we can do
